

State Attitude on Integration Before Lawmen

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The official attitude of Arkansas toward integration of public schools, either that of strong resistance or quite acceptance, may hang in the balance today.

A senate committee is scheduled to report on a group of four bills, adding up to a pro-segregation package sometime after 1 p. m., after hearing a cross-section of the state's legal, religious, labor and educational notables debate the question at the state capitol last night.

More than 1,000 house gallery spectators, about evenly split in sentiment and in division of whites and Negroes, heard the speakers argue the bills before the Senate Committee on Constitutional amendments for two hours. The House last week gave overwhelming endorsement to the four measures which would create a State Sovereignty Commission to oppose federal enforcement of the Supreme Court's decision, repeal compulsory attendance at school that integrate, allow school boards to hire attorneys to fight integration until opponents won approval for the public hearing.

Most of the speakers were either educators, ministers or attorneys. The Arkansas Press Association stated its opposition to the Sovereignty Commission, not on racial issues, but because its members feared the "broad powers" of the commission which they felt might be construed to limit the right of a free press.

Opponents of the measures hit the Sovereignty Commission bill hardest, calling it a dangerous creation that might go far beyond the question of integration with power to subpoena witnesses and records for investigations. Supporters maintained the measures would simply let Arkansas school districts that wished to do so, oppose integration. They denied charges that the Commission could become a sinister, gestapo-type authority.

Arkansas is loosely divided on question along geographic lines. The Eastern half of the state has a heavy Negro population that far outnumbers the Negroes in the Western half.

With the governor favoring the bills, their fate rests with the Senate.

Bill Upcoming to Revise Rate Fixing Method

LITTLE ROCK, (Special). Time grows short for introduction and action on a bill which, before the General Assembly opened, was expected to talk high rating on the "must" list because of W. R. Stephens' interest in it.

It has been frequently referred to as the "fair value" or "commodity value" bill, which would have for its purpose the giving of legislative sanction to the Public Service Commission's departure of the traditional rate-making method of fixing utility rates.

So far gas utilities have been the chief beneficiaries of the rate-making innovation, which was first used by the PSC to justify a $4,300,000 annual increase in Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. rates for its larger industrial customers. In that instance it was called the "filed price" or "fair field value" method, and consisted of permitting Ark-La to charge itself for gas produced in its own wells not what it actually cost but an estimated market value.

Stephens, who, after controlling Ark-La policies for two years during which the Arkansas PSC gave the company over $7,000,000 in increased rates, became the company's Board chairman January 1. He has enlisted the assistance of C. Hamilton Moses, retired board chairman of Arkansas Power and Light Co., in promotion of the "fair value" system of determining utility rates, several legislators learned last week, when some of the utility operating consultants conferred with them about the proposal.

In addition to Ark-La, the PSC has applied the fair value to Arkansas Western Gas Co.

House Faces Test Today to Curb Spending

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) House members today faced a major test of their professed determination to curb federal spending.

They had to decide whether to approve a recommendation of the House Appropriations Committee that 50 million dollars be cut from the amount President Eisenhower asked to run the Post Office Department for the year starting July 1.

The postal appropriation is part of a $3,884,927,000 money measure financing the Treasury and Post Office departments for the fiscal year. It is the first of the regular annual money bills on which federal spending next year will be based. All the bills together embody requests for more than 73 billion dollars in new money.

The Appropriations Committee cut the Post Office budget by 58 millions and the Treasury by $22,364,000.

While there were no audible complaints against the reduction in Treasury funds, the postal cut drew criticism from the department and from at least five committee members who opposed it. Unless the money is put back, the department said, it would have to cut some services. Possible effects it said, would be to fire about 10,000 employees, close some post offices on Saturdays and stop Saturday mail deliveries, as well as abandon plans to establish about 5,000 new city carrier routes.

Rep. Canfield of New Jersey, senior Republican on the subcommittee that drafted the bill, called the committee action "most unfortunate," and it would result in "a serious reduction" of the postal force and in postal services.

Canfield tried to have the committee restore 34 millions of the cut but lost by a 21-5 vote. He said he would offer an amendment on the House floor and predicted it would be approved.

A Senate vote last night threatened to upset the House's first move toward economy—deletion of a 30-million-dollar appropriation for government purchase of four minerals for stockpiling.

The Senate restored the appropriation, which a House committee had called unnecessary. A Senate House conference will determine the bill's final terms.

Paul Church was taken into the club as a new member and guests were B. N. Holt, Dale Dunn and Mr. Randolph. There were 54 members present.

Georgia Asks Impeachment of Justices

ATLANTA (AP) A resolution calling for impeachment of six U.S. Supreme Court Justices was passed by the Georgia House and sent to the Senate despite a member's protest that "we're making ourselves ridiculous before the world."

It was approved yesterday by a slim margin of four votes, with 57 members not voting. The roll call count was 106 to 33. A constitutional majority of 103 was necessary for passage.

The resolution, drafted by Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook, charged "high crimes and misdemeanors" to Chief Justice Earl Warren and Associate Justices Black, Douglas, Reed, and Frankfurter.

Rep. Raymond Reed spoke out against what he called "a far-fetched resolution" based on "unreasonable, unfounded evidence."

"We're making ourselves ridiculous before the world," he said. "What better way could we serve the Communist press than to throw out such a resolution as this, based on unwarranted and unfounded charges."

Compromise Highway Fund Bill Ready

LITTLE ROCK — Sen. Martin Melton of Jonesboro today planned to reveal a compromise bill for dividing road funds between the Arkansas Highway Department, municipalities and counties.

A 3-way battle for money has been waged by the Department, the Arkansas Municipal League and the Arkansas County Judges Association.

Melton served as chairman at a Little Rock meeting of the three groups yesterday. The League agreed — with reservations — that a Department plan for sharing funds was equitable, but the County Judges Association held out against the plan.

March 1 Is Deadline for Cotton Plan

March 1 is the deadline for farmers to sign agreements under the 1957 cotton acreage Reserve program, H. B. Gilbert, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, has announced.

Agreements will be entered into on a "first-come, first-served" basis, and late-comers will have to take their chances of additional funds being made available later, he declared.

The chairman explained that agreements with farmers to put up to the maximum acreage under the Acreage Reserve program will be entered into a firm basis as long as the county allocation of funds permits. The maximum acreage for cotton is 110,048. Farmers who sign agreements after such funds are exhausted will be listed in the order of signing, and these agreements will be honored later if additional funds are made available through reallocation from other counties after the close of the program sign-up.

Any farmer who wishes to put an acreage under the program which is larger than the allowed maximum should indicate this at the time he signs the original agreement. If additional funds are allocated later, a new agreement for the larger amount will then be entered into by the farmer and the County ASC Committee.

Chairman Gilbert emphasized that land placed in the Cotton Acreage Reserve must be specifically designated and identified in the agreement, and that only land suitable for the production of cotton will be eligible for such designation.

Farmers who take part in the cotton Acreage Reserve must reduce their acreage of the crop below the farm allotment; must not harvest or graze the "reserved" land (except when permission is granted in emergencies); and must take steps to prevent the land from spreading "noxious" weeds. In addition they must comply with all allotments established for other crops on the farm.

SEATON IN HONOLULU

HONOLULU (AP) — Secretary of Interior Seaton arrived yesterday for a 10-day inspection visit to the Hawaiian Islands and declared President Eisenhower intends to make a fight during the current session of Congress for statehood for Hawaii and Alaska.

Melton served as chairman at a Little Rock meeting of the three groups yesterday. The League agreed — with reservations — that a Department plan for sharing funds was equitable, but the County Judges Association held out against the plan.

Melton said he intended to call another compromise meeting probably tonight, in an effort to work out full agreement.

The Highway Department plan, proposed recently by Director Herbert H. Hensley, would fix distribution at 75 per cent for the Department, 15 per cent for counties and 10 per cent for cities.

Five Shots Fired Into Liquor Store

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Five shotgun blasts were fired into a liquor store near here last night and a Conway man was arrested today for questioning.

John W. Bradley of North Little Rock, a clerk who was struck in the chest by a buckshot pellet, said he dropped to the floor when the shooting started. He was alone in the store.

Sheriff Tom Gully said that A. O. Henley of Conway was questioned in connection with the shooting. Chief Deputy Monroe Love said that Henley had denied any part in the shooting.

House Group to Peek Into PSC Rate Methods

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A resolution raising the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. today failed to pass by one vote in the Arkansas House.

Shortly before, the House, by adoption of another resolution, had authorized the appointment of a 5-member committee to obtain from Public Service Commission records, certain information on operations and financing of a group of Arkansas utilities, including Arkansas Louisiana.

The committee would operate in place of submission by PSC of data which the agency had been directed to furnish in two earlier resolutions.

Rep. Don Steel of Howard County proposed the resolution for a committee.

It caused considerable debate, including a statement of opposition by Rep. Hardy W. Croxon of Benton County, author of one of the earlier resolutions.

Steel said that "by the author's own admission" Croxon's resolution was directed "at only one company and one man."

He obviously referred to Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. and W. R. Stephens of Little Rock, its board chairman.

Steel said that the essential information sought in Croxon's resolution and an amending one by Rep. Chadd L. Durrett of Union County could be more easily obtained by the committee than by having PSC introduce voluminous documents to the House.

Besides Croxon's opposition, Rep. Jim Coates Jr. of Pulaski opposed the Steel resolution.

"I can't figure out," he said, "why we are being subjected to pressure to avoid giving Mr. Croxon what he asks for."

Rep. Marion H. Crank of Little River County, supporting the Steel resolution, said that Arkansas-Louisiana had been "harassed by my local newspaper, the Texarkana Gazette which is you all know, now it is being harassed here in the Legislature."

Crank said that a decision involving Ark-La was about to be made on a proposed 12 to 18-million dollar cement plant for his county and that he for one wanted to do nothing to hamper possibility of getting the plant.

There was no debate on the proposed resolution to commend Ark-La, which was introduced by Rep. Jack East Jr. of Pulaski.

The resolution got 50 votes for and 20 against.

Speaker Glen F. Walther of Pulaski ruled that it had been adopted. He was successfully disputed by Croxon, who pointed out the rules require a majority of the House, or 51 for approval of a resolution.

Delay Asked in Active Duty for National Guards

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep. Overton Brooks proposed a one-year postponement today in the Army's plan to require six months active duty for young recruits to the National Guard.

The Louisiana Democrat said he might offer the idea as a compromise in the controversy between the Army and the guard over how much training young guardsmen should have.

Brooks is chairman of a House Armed Services subcommittee which has conducted long hearings on the dispute.

The Army contends that 80 per cent of the guardsmen now lack enough training and has ordered all guard recruits to serve six months active duty after April 1.

The National Guard Association agrees to this for recruits who are above 18½ years old. But it is fighting for 11 weeks training for those who are 17 to 18½—an age group which makes up 65 per cent of the guard's recruits.

Brooks said the six-month training program should go into effect April 1 as planned for recruits over 18½. But he suggested that the date of the Army order might be delayed for younger recruits.

"Perhaps we could let the order stand but not enforce it for one year for those under 18½," Brooks said.

During this period, guard recruits under 18½ would be required to take only 11 weeks active duty. They would be encouraged to volunteer for extra training.

The guard also would seek to interest its members in volunteering for a full six-month active duty in the first place, as it is now doing.

After this trial period, Brooks said, the program could be scrutinized to see how it was working.

Whether the Army was successful in recruiting guardsmen, whether young recruits were volunteering for extra duty, and other phases.

It appeared that Brooks' proposal would meet with the approval of guard spokesmen.

Maj. Gen. Ellard A. Walsh, president of the National Guard Association, was asked when he testified before the Brooks subcommittee yesterday what he thought of a one-year trial for an 11-week training plan. He said he would be "perfectly willing" to try it.

Maj. Gen. Maxwell E. Rich, adjutant general of Utah, said in testimony prepared for delivery today that the Army should consider the "Utah Plan" in training guardsmen in 11 weeks.

Under this setup, enlistees would be sent to state training camps operated during the summer by National Guard personnel, supervised by the regular army.

Loyalty Oath Bill Recalled by Sponsor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — At the request of the author, the State Senate yesterday voted to recall from the governor's office a bill which would require any public or school employee to swear that he is not a member of a subversive organization.

The bill had received unanimous approval of the Senate and had passed the House by an 81-0 vote after some debate. Some representatives favored a substitute which would require officials to swear only that they would uphold the Constitution. Some opponents of the measure felt that it might cast reflections on public school teachers.

Sen. Artie Gregory of North Little Rock, the author, said that "it is a well known fact that Communism has invaded our governmental offices, especially in educational circles."

"My purpose," he said, was to put on record the expressed feeling of the members of the Arkansas Senate and House toward Communism being encouraged by public officials and those employed in our public schools.

On reconsideration I believe that the bill as written may be too broad, and it may be that no legislation is necessary at this time. Since notice has been given to Communists not to apply for service in our government supported will I trust, give more thought to this problem in promulgating future employment procedures and policies and by direct questioning eliminate those that may have come under the provisions of the act."

The Senate also endorsed the idea of a "central bank" to help finance industrial expansion. A bill by Sen. James P. Baker of West Helena would permit the formation of the Arkansas Industrial Finance Corp. to act as a non-profit lending agency.

The corporation would attempt to sell 100,000 worth of common stock, $500,000 worth of preferred stock and unlimited amount of bonds. After the initial one million dollars is raised, the state may use its investment funds to provide all or part of the next five million dollars and also could invest more on a matching basis.

A purchase of common stock would be in the nature of a contribution since it would be an interest-free loan for an indefinite period.

Lana Turner and Hubby Separate

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Film star Lana Turner, Hollywood's original sweater girl, revealed today that she has separated from her fourth husband, Lex Barker, the former movie Tarzan.

The screen beauty said Barker moved out of their house into a hotel Sunday and that she plans to see an attorney as soon as possible about getting a divorce.

"There has been a misunderstanding and we have separated," the actress told friends.

It was reported that Barker was hopeful of a reconciliation.

Friends of the actress said they did not know what had said that "Lana is very unhappy about this — after all, it's her fourth marriage and it's gone on the rocks."

Last October the actress lost the child she had expected to be born in January of this year. She suffered miscarriages during her other marriages also. She has only one child, a teenage girl named Cheryl by Crane.

Favor Local Taxes for School Needs

ATLANTA (AP) Southern business men attending a U. S. Chamber of Commerce clinic have vote in favor of local taxation for school needs.

Some 375 persons attending the organization's congressional issue clinic yesterday also favored reduced federal spending, tax reduction, removal of restrictions of agriculture, freedom to merge businesses without 60-day prior notice to the government and control of labor officials with regard to membership property in the same manner stockholders control corporate management.

Roy C. McCall, Easley, S. C., businessman, speaking on South Carolina's school construction needs, told the group "we've got the feeling we can do the job ourselves if the government will just let us alone awhile."

McCall said South Carolina School Supt. Jesse B. Anderson had refused a report that the state has no classrooms for more than 55,000 pupils. "There is no excess of pupils," McCall said.

He said South Carolina's 6-million-dollar share of the president's proposed two billion dollar school construction program would give the state only 20 new schools while "in our little Pickens County alone we recently built six new schools on our own."

"We built a fine highway system while paying the federal government more in gasoline taxes than we got in return," McCall said. "Just give South Carolina little more time and it can do the same for its school system."

McCall was one of several regional panelists who answered questions at the clinic, designed to "alert, organize and equip businessmen to speak up on legislation that affects business climate."

Middle East Still Unsolved Threat

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American efforts to get some peace and quiet in the Middle East are proceeding like a man walking down a freshly tarred street on a hot day. Every time he takes a step, he's stuck.

Egyptian President Nasser is the biggest problem in the Middle East. But Israel is a problem to Nasser can't be tackled until there is some solution in Israel. The Israeli problem shows no sign of being cleared up soon.

But when it is, if it is, the United States and the United Nations will probably have their hands full with Nasser. Meanwhile, Nasser, keeping his mouth shut, can sit back and enjoy watching the world sweat over Israel.

Until Israel attacked Egypt and seized the Gaza Strip and the Akaba Gulf area, Nasser had used the former for raids on Israel and the latter for blockading Israeli shipping.

The United States requested, and the U. N. demanded, that Israel pull back its troops. Israeli effect says: "Nothing doing, until you can guarantee us Nasser can't renew his raids and his blockades."

Neither the United States nor the U. N. has given such guarantees. For the United States there is an awkward double dilemma in handling both Israel and Nasser. This country's two biggest allies, Britain and France, agree with Israel that Nasser is a menace. Further, this country has a Middle Eastern friend in Israel which it helped create in the first place.

So it can't afford to go too far—or at least it doesn't seem likely to—in doing anything, such as joining the other U.N. members in imposing sanctions on Israel, that would hurt Israel too much or alienate the British and French.

At the same time, at this moment when the Eisenhower administration is trying to get Congress to approve its Middle Eastern plan for making the Arabs friendly, it doesn't want to offend the Moslem world by being too easy on Israel.

But the United States may find itself in a reverse dilemma the moment Israel—for whatever the reason—agrees to pull her troops

The "fair value" rule would mean higher utility rates—that would be purpose in establishing it. Also it would be insurance against the possibility of an adverse decision by the Arkansas Supreme Court in which an appeal by several Ark-La industrial customers from the PSC "field price" order of November 1955 is pending. The case was submitted to the Court three weeks ago.

Baker said that formation of such an organization would help solve the major problem in attracting new industry.

William Nash, Little Rock attorney who drafted the bill, said that "it is not the purpose of this legislation to provide risk capital."

The House defeated, 51-33, a bill which opponents declared would have had the effect of outlawing trading stamps.

The measure would have required that the stamps be redeemable at a stated cash value, rather than in merchandise, at option of the holder.

Issues of the stamps would be required to pay to the state treasurer the cash equivalent of all stamps not redeemed within a year.

The House passed and sent to the Senate bills to modernize the medical practices act and to require truckers to prove payment of ad valorem taxes before being issued operating stamps by the Public Service Commission.

Swedish Actress Dies of Brain Disease

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UP)—

Swedish Actress Marta Toren died early today of a rare brain ailment in Stockholm's south hospital. She was 31.

Dr. Goesta Von Reis, who described her condition as "hopeless" when she entered the hospital Sunday in an extremely serious condition said that there was nothing he could do.

"I would describe her case as hopeless," he said shortly before she died. "She is worsening by the hour. We can do nothing for her."

Miss Toren had been staying in Stockholm for some time, playing the leading part in a Swedish comedy hit. She was stricken after the Saturday evening performance.

Partisanship Middle East Plan Rapped

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) urged the Senate today to abandon "partisanship" in its Middle East debate and give President Eisenhower "full and unconditional support" for action in that area.

"Obstructionism and irresponsible division are effective only in destroying the impact abroad of an all-American foreign policy and in befuddling and obscuring the issues for the people here at home," he declared.

Smith, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, spoke out in an address made available prior to its delivery in the Senate. When he might get the floor remained a question, however. Chairman Green (D-RI), of the same committee had to put off delivery of the opening speech until today when the Senate got tangled up in debate yesterday on a deficiency appropriation bill.

Senate Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas still expressed the hope, however, that all talk might be concluded by the end of next week, or by March 3 at the latest.

Urging Senate approval of the military-economic program Eisenhower proposed for the Middle East, Smith said the nations of that area are in need of "immediate assistance" in an effort to bolster their ability to "resist communism at this critical moment."

He said the "continued existence" of the threat of Russia and Red China to send volunteers into the area "is a powerful factor in promoting instability and weakness in the Middle East."

The Middle East resolution, as announced that the United States is "prepared to use armed forces" to assist nations requesting protection from aggression from "any country controlled by international communism." And it would allow strengthening Middle East defenses the President to spend up to 20 and shore up the economies of million dollars in foreign aid funds those nations.

Fracture Halts Pro Cage Star

NEW YORK (U)—With Bob Pettit's left arm in a cast a National Basketball Association scoring record seems out of the question, and Philadelphia's Paul Arizin, a red Neil Johnston appear ready to cut off a bid for a second straight title by the St. Louis scoring whiz. Pettit the 6'9" former all-america who looked to be in position to topple George Mikan's one-season record of 1,932 points, suffered a fracture against Boston last Friday. He had averaged 30.7 points a game through his previous 21 starts until Sunday—when, with the cast on his arm, he played only 2 minutes and was scoreless.

Pettit still tops the scoring list with 1,626 points and 28.1 average with 14 games remaining. Arizin is right behind with 1,486 and a 25.2 average. Then comes Johnston at 1,418 and 24.0. Both Warriors have one less game remaining than Pettit.

Clyde Lovellette of Minneapolis moved from No. 7 to the sixth spot in scoring but his average

Fishing, Hunting License Hiked

LITTLE ROCK (U)—A bill to raise hunting and fishing licenses in Arkansas from $1.50 to $2.30 has been recommended by a house committee after a public hearing.

The Conservation and Natural Resources Committee held the hearing in the Arkansas Senate chamber last night. Seven persons spoke for the bill and five objected to it.

Nelson Cox, state Game and Fish Commission director, said the extra revenue would be used to buy land for new fish and wildlife areas and improve present areas.

The bill would make it a misdemeanor to be caught without a license and a fine of not less than $10 or more than $200 could be levied.

Fullmer Wins Decision Over Durando

DENVER (U)—Gene Fullmer added $8,400 to his bank account but little to his prestige as middleweight boxing champion with a unanimous decision over Emile Durando last night in a 10-round non-title fight.

Some of the 6,132 fans who paid a Denver record gate of $24,145 chimed in with boos and staccato handclaps in the late stages of the bout in Auditorium Arena.

Durando, 163, veteran of 68 pro fights since 1946, stayed on his feet all the way while soaking up every punch the 22-pound champion uncorrupted Durando shook up Fullmer only once, in the seventh.

Referee Ray Keesch scored it 50-45, Judge Joe Ulmer 50-41. Fullmer, West Jordan, Utah, welder, received 40 per cent of the gate, $21,001, after taxes, paid $3,000. Bayonne, N.J., was Third-ranked Kentucky, Bradley, tied with UCLA for the No. 5 rating, and 11th-ranked Indiana all scored impressive victories and Oklahoma City whipped Memphis State, already in the National Invitation Tournament, 106-96, in other important games.

Kentucky virtually clinched its 17th Southeastern Conference title with an 80-78 decision over Vanderbilt before 12,000 at Lexington, Ky. The Wildcats blew a 17-point halftime lead and had a narrow brush with a tie when Vanderbilt's Al Roghelle missed a last-ditch set shot with eight seconds left. Johnny Cox led Kentucky with 23 points.

Bradley scored its 18th win in 21 games when it tripped Wichita, 74-72, after leading by as much as 18 points. Barney Cable scored 21 points and Shellie McMillon 18 to lead the Braves.

Indiana retained its lead in the Big Ten conference as Archie Dees sparked the Hoosiers to a 90-76 win over Iowa. Dees connected for 15 of 27 shots and seven free throws for 37 points. Indiana led, 47-42, at the half and never was seriously impressed by the Tar Heels' 20-0 record, 55 of the 89 sports writers and sportscasters who participated in the poll put UNC on top. North Carolina drew 806 points on the usual basis of 10 for first place, 9 for second, etc. Kansas collected 17 "firsts" and 756 points.

The Tar Heels fanned their victory total last week against Virginia 68-59 and Wake Forest 72-69. The Jayhawks who trailed North Carolina by 90-points in last week's poll, boasted their mark to 17-1 with a 76-56 triumph over Oklahoma last night.

The next four places remained the same. Kentucky was third with 474 points followed by Seattle, Bradley and Southern Methodist, Louisville, in seventh place, switched positions with UCLA. Still Stumbles, Held to 11 But Kansas Wins

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

Will Chamberlain's bid for the national scoring title suffered a near-disastrous blow today in the wake of the Kansas giant's worst performance of his college career.

The seventh-foot Chamberlain managed to score a mere 11 points last night while Kansas routed Oklahoma, 76-56, and dropped into fifth place in the scoring derby. South Carolina's Grady Wallace ranks first with a 30.57 average, Columbia's Chet Forte is second with 29.55 and Elgin Baylor, who tallied 40 points in Seattle's 98-87 win over Gonzaga last night took over third place from Chamberlain with a 29.13 average.

Chamberlain's average after 10 games is 20 points a game. Wallace plays against Furman tonight while Forte's action against Yale on Wednesday.

Chamberlain scored only four points in the first half and fouled out for the first time in his career with 8:56 to go in the second half. Will's lowest previous game-out was 12 points against Iowa State last December and he never previously had drawn more than four fouls in a game.

Despite Chamberlain's poor showing, Kansas breezed to a 36-20 halftime lead. The Jayhawks led, 59-42, when Will fouled out and soon increased the margin to 22 points. Sophomore Ronnie Lonski paced Kansas with 28 points while Don Schwall tallied 30 for Oklahoma.

The victory was the 17th in 18 games for Kansas, the nation's second-ranked team.

Third-ranked Kentucky, Bradley, tied with UCLA for the No. 5 rating, and 11th-ranked Indiana all scored impressive victories and Oklahoma City whipped Memphis State, already in the National Invitation Tournament, 106-96, in other important games.

Kentucky virtually clinched its 17th Southeastern Conference title with an 80-78 decision over Vanderbilt before 12,000 at Lexington, Ky. The Wildcats blew a 17-point halftime lead and had a narrow brush with a tie when Vanderbilt's Al Roghelle missed a last-ditch set shot with eight seconds left. Johnny Cox led Kentucky with 23 points.

Bradley scored its 18th win in 21 games when it tripped Wichita, 74-72, after leading by as much as 18 points. Barney Cable scored 21 points and Shellie McMillon 18 to lead the Braves.

Indiana retained its lead in the Big Ten conference as Archie Dees sparked the Hoosiers to a 90-76 win over Iowa. Dees connected for 15 of 27 shots and seven free throws for 37 points. Indiana led, 47-42, at the half and never was seriously

CHAPTER XX

The third arrival on the train that day walked from the depot, pass the hotel and entered the Longhorn Saloon. He had a drink, surveyed the games that were played even so early in the day and in a little while produced some money and proceeded to play faro.

He played for five minutes and then said to the dealer, "Mister, I don't like that card box of yours."

The dealer stared at the new player. "Who do you think you are?"

"My name," said the new player, "happens to be Jack Mason."

"Wild Jack!" exclaimed the dealer in a tone of awe.

"Yes, sir," said Wild Jack. "And I've played a bit of faro in my time. I never liked a box that showed so little of the cards. I like a nice, open box." Wild Jack smiled coldly. "I am not suggesting you are dishonest, but it makes me feel better to have everything open and aboveboard."

Tom Alder, who had been having a quiet drink at the bar, came over and watched the dealer replace his regular faro box with a new one from his bag.

Alder's eyes remained on Wild threatened the remainder of the way.

Oklahoma City went over the 100 mark for the second time in the school history in walloping Memphis State. Hubert Reed had 38 points and Lyndon Led for Oklahoma City while Win Willough had 38 for Memphis State. State, Seattle, Cincinnati and Dayton are the four teams already named to New York's N. I. T. tournament.

In other games, Bill Ebben scored 41 points to lead Detroit to a 87-69 decision over Tulsa; Lionel Smith tallied 44 points as Missouri routed Marquette, 90-78.

obe postponed for a few weeks."

Morgan, of course, did not know of what had passed between Nathan Foss and his partner. He had seen Foss, had spoken to him briefly, but he had left the railroad magnate in the hands of Jagger and his sister.

Morgan was not aware of the arrival in Pawnee City of Judson Drake. Strangers were coming to Pawnee City almost every day of the week. Some came by train, some rode in on horseback, some came in carriages, buggies and even muleback.

Things were moving behind the scenes. Morgan was aware of that. He would enter the St. Louis Store and find Tarbox in discussion with Buffington, Fesler, Wakeman or another Pawnee City businessman. There would be a brief, awkward pause, then they would talk casually to Morgan of trivial matters.

Morgan was no longer in the confidence of the businessmen and they kept the account of their machinations pretty well under cover, until the second issue of The Pawnee City Lance came out.

"City to Form Government," read the headline. The three-column article told the entire story. Under the guidance of the noted former judge of Kansas City, Judson Drake, papers of incorporation had been drawn up. Business establishments would be taxed to bear the expense of governing the city. A temporary board of five supervisors was offering a slate of Pawnee City, in an election to be held August first—a bare week from the announcement. The slate:

For Mayor: Charles Fesler
For Justice of the Peace: Judson Drake
For Supervisors: Alfred Buffington, Harlow Tarbox, John Thompson, Oliver Wakeman, Chad Morgan.

Election of the unopposed candidates was a certainty.

Newspapers, fresh off Fesler's press, were distributed by Fesler himself. Morgan, in the real-estate office when he received the paper, sent himself at his desk and waited for the explosion.

It came within 10 minutes. Joe Jagger having received his newspaper at the hotel. It took about eight minutes for Fesler, on his rounds, to reach the hotel from the real-estate office.

Qualifying Rounds in Houston Open

HOUSTON, Tex. (U)—Stats of the winter golf tour competed in a preliminary $5,000 pro-amateur event today as non-exempt players sought to qualify for the $38,000 Houston Open on a rain-soaked Memorial Park course.

While the exempt stars were touring the new Houston Golf Club across town, the longest course of the winter tour was testing about 100 players seeking 30 positions in Thursday's opening round of the 72-hole tournament.

Most of the newcomers and youngsters were getting their first 1957 look at the 7,200-yard, par-72 Memorial course. Three days of rain closed the course to practice play yesterday and Sunday rounds were limited.

Scattered showers were forecast today. All the new champions of 1957, seven of the eight former Houston champions, and several foreign tourists were on hand to try for the $7,500 top prize money.

Ted Kroff, defending champion, won only $6,000 a year ago but the sponsoring Houston Golf Association since then has boosted the prize money from $30,000 to $36,000.

Kroff was among the 106 pros competing with 214 amateurs today in the $5,000 tournament preliminary of the 6,289-yard, par-71 Houston Golf Club. The amateurs were selected from among 650 sponsors.

How Texas Eastern helps Bendix give "SAGE" advice

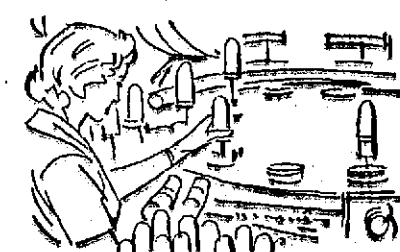

Row on row of vacuum tubes help do the thinking for the giant electronic computer "brain" of "SAGE" (Semi-Automatic Ground Environment)—America's new air warning network. These tubes are in continuous service—so they have to be rugged. And that's the way Bendix Aviation's Red Bank Division makes them . . . with an assist from Texas Eastern.

Texas Eastern transports natural gas via pipeline from the Southwest for use in the Eatontown, N. J., Bendix plant. Gas is used in all critical tube forming and sealing operations. High heat content of natural gas and uniformity of its heating characteristics help produce high quality tubes.
